Overview

Rippling gives you the option to set weekend policies to ensure employees don't request time off on a weekend day that is not part of the assigned work week. You can set up multiple weekend policies and assign them to specific employees as needed. If a worker is not assigned to a weekend policy, their weekends default to Saturday and Sunday.

Note: If a company holiday configured within a holiday policy falls on one of the weekend days designated in the weekend policy, employees will not be paid for this holiday.

Steps: Create a weekend policy

Note: This article provides instructions for the new Time Settings experience, which is currently available to a limited set of customers. If your experience doesn't match what's described, your account may not have been upgraded yet — navigate to Time > Policies instead and locate the relevant policy category. Learn more in this article, which provides an overview of the new Time Settings experience.

To create a weekend policy, follow these steps:

1. From the main sidebar, select Time.
2. From the Time sidebar, select Time Settings.
3. In the Time Off section, click Weekends.
4. Click Add new policy.
5. Enter a name for the policy.
6. Place a checkmark next to the days of the week that are weekend days for your company.
7. Click Create.

Tip: If workers at your company work on weekends, create a new weekend policy with their custom weekend days. If your company has a 7-day work week, create a policy with no weekend days selected. This will allow your employees to request days off on any day of the week.

Add members to a weekend policy

Adding membership to weekend policies by groups rather than adding individuals reduces manual work and ensures individuals are assigned to the correct policies as their employment with your company evolves. You can use Rippling attributes (such as department, work location, etc) to assign policies to groups, or you can build a Supergroup. For more information on Supergroups, see this guide.

To add members to a weekend policy, follow these steps:

1. From the main sidebar, select Time.
2. From the Time sidebar, select Time Settings.
3. In the Time Off section, click Weekends.
4. Find the policy you want to add members, then click the pencil icon next to the Members section.
5. Specify the groups of individuals to which the policy applies (e.g., employment type, work location, department).
6. Click Insert.

Prioritize weekend policies

Rippling tries your company's weekend policies in order - the first one that matches a given employee is applied.

Note: This article provides instructions for the new Time Settings experience, which is currently available to a limited set of customers. If your experience doesn't match what's described, your account may not have been upgraded yet — navigate to Time > Policies instead and locate the relevant policy category.
